CONGRATULATIONS!

56 THANK YOU FOR JOINING OUR TEAM
WELCOME ABOARD
WELCOME

On behalf of the entire Navy Exchange Service Command (NEXCOM) team, Welcome Aboard! You have joined an organization with an honored tradition and a bright future. The NEXCOM Enterprise is a worldwide organization with approximately 14,000 associates who work in our six business lines: Navy Exchange (NEX), Navy Lodge, Ships Store, Uniform Program Management Office (UPOMO), Telecommunications Program Office (TPO) and Navy Clothing and Textile Research Facility (NCTRF).

You have an important role to play in the continued success of the entire enterprise. You are the face of the organization to Sailors, Reservists, retirees and their family members. You are the one who greets a Sailor at a NEX while on deployment; the one who fits a newly promoted Chief with her first khaki uniform; the one who welcomes a Sailor and family at their new duty station - you are now part of the Navy family!

As a new associate, you are certain to have questions concerning the organization, its expectations, benefits and standards. This handbook is designed to provide general information about NEXCOM and help you become oriented with the organization. Please read your handbook thoroughly and retain it for future reference.

We are committed to providing the training, development and communication you need to succeed in your career. I encourage you to talk with other associates and your supervisor if you have additional questions. Welcome and thanks for joining the NEXCOM family!

Robert J. Bianchi
Rear Admiral, Supply Corps, USN (Ret.)
Chief Executive Officer
Navy Exchange Service Command

Your handbook summarizes most of NEXCOM’s employment practices and the benefits you receive as an associate. The specific local NEX or NEXCOM wide policy document, instruction, directive or provision of law must be referred to for a determination of applicability. This Handbook creates no rights or causes of action and may not be relied upon by any person, organization or entity to allege a denial or rights, or to request any remedies. You will receive updated information periodically. If you have any questions regarding our policies, benefits, etc., the best sources to ask are your supervisor or a member of the Human Resources group.

HISTORY

NAVY EXCHANGE SERVICE COMMAND: A PROUD PAST

NEXs have come a long way since the days when bumboats sold their wares to Sailors aboard Naval vessels in the 1800’s. Back then, Sailors had to depend on these unreliable boats to get their personal items while aboard ship. The bumboats, small vessels that pulled alongside U.S. Navy ships, exchanged merchandise for money by pails lowered over the side by the crew of the Navy ship. Goods sold by the bumboats were normally inferior and were sold at very high prices.

By 1909, the Naval Appropriations Act established the first official resale activities, the Ships Stores and Commissary Stores. The ships stores were authorized to make a profit, as long as it did not exceed 15%. Unfortunately, ships stores did not produce sufficient revenue for financing the welfare funds. So, in 1925 the Ships Service was created to provide Navy crew members nearly any legal article of merchandise without the profit restrictions placed on the Ships Store. However, these Ships Services had no foundation in law.

It became clear by 1942 that there was no need or space for both the Ships Stores and the Ships Service aboard Navy ships. In 1944, the Secretary of the Navy made the establishment of the merged stores mandatory on all ships that had a supply officer. It also permitted ships stores to be operated on all Naval bases.

Ships Service Stores ashore also began steps towards centralization in 1945 when a committee was formed to study the resale activities. The recommendation of the committee, headed by Capt. Wheelock H. Bingham, SC, USNR, was that all resale activities be operated like a large chain of retail stores and that a central office be established to oversee the operation of the Navy Resale System.

The Secretary of the Navy gave his approval of the Bingham Plan which stated, in part, that the Ships Service Stores Ashore be operated with non-appropriated funds. The new central office for the Navy Ships Store Office was established in Brooklyn, N.Y., on Apr. 1, 1946. This office was later renamed the Navy Exchange Service Command (NEXCOM).

The NEXCOM Enterprise encompasses six different organizations discussed on pages 14-15. Its mission is to provide authorized customers quality goods and services at a savings and support Navy quality of life programs for active duty military, retirees, reservists and their families. NEXCOM’s parent command is the Naval Supply Systems Command (NAVSUP).

The NEXCOM Enterprise is a non-appropriated fund instrumentality (NAFI) of the Department of Defense and the Department (DoD) of the Navy (DoN). This means that we pay most of our bills through the goods and services that we provide and use very little tax dollars (appropriated funds) in running our business. You are a federal employee, but most of the laws administered by Civil Service for appropriated fund associates are not applicable.
NEXCOM employs approximately 14,000 associates worldwide, of which over 25% are military family members. There are six core business lines within the NEXCOM Enterprise.

NAVY EXCHANGE (NEX)
There are approximately 300 NEX stores worldwide. NEX achieves almost $3 billion in sales annually, is self-supporting and contributes 70% of its profits to Navy Morale, Welfare and Recreation (MWR) programs – over $3.6 billion since 1946! The NEX program is the largest of our six businesses, housing a variety of retail outlets such as department, specialty and package stores. However, NEXs also provide necessary services to our Navy community such as barber and beauty shops, automotive centers, laundry/dry cleaning facilities, modern food courts and much more. Our NEX locations range in size from enormous 180,000 sq. ft. malls to small mini-marts and fleet stores. While our buildings vary in style, size and location, we always attempt to provide Sailors with the products and services they want most.

NAVY LODGE
Officially established in 1969, the Navy Lodge Program provides temporary and affordable housing for Navy families relocating to a new duty station. Today, there are 39 Navy Lodges worldwide with occupancy rates well above the private sector average. Our Navy Lodges share our quality of life mission. In making Navy Lodge reservations, priority is given to relocating families. However, active duty personnel, reservists, retirees, DoD personnel on official duty travel, official guests of the command, and you, as an associate, are eligible to use Navy Lodges. Like NEXs, Navy Lodges are self-supporting. Profits are used to cover the cost of operations as well as renovation and construction projects.

NAVY CLOTHING AND TEXTILE RESEARCH FACILITY (NCTR)
NCTR, in Natick, Massachusetts, conducts testing and evaluation of all uniform items to ensure they meet or exceed Navy quality standards. Its primary mission is to develop uniforms and protective clothing worn by Navy Sailors that are safe, comfortable and fit well.

NCTR’s focus is to test fabrics for fire and heat resistance, water immersion and buoyancy, heat and cold stress, ballistic protection, and uniform design and development. A team of textile technologists, clothing designers, physiologists and other scientific experts are all involved in conducting research, design, development, improvement and user assessment studies of protective garments and equipment. Improving uniform styling, fit and durability as well as upgrading materials to bring the best to customers is part of the NCTR mission.

UNIFORM PROGRAM MANAGEMENT OFFICE (UPMO)
With over 100 uniform shops worldwide and a uniform mail order program, the NEX is the source for Navy uniforms. This program sets us apart from all other retailers.

SHIPS STORE
Ships stores are retail outlets on ships that provide basic necessities for Sailors. They also operate vending, laundry and barber shop facilities. Currently, there are approximately 130 ships stores operated under NEXCOM’s technical guidance. An important part of shipboard quality of life and morale, ships stores provide Sailors with a little bit of home on the high seas. All ships store profits support crew quality of life and are either retained onboard for the ship’s own MWR Program or are distributed to the MWR Central Fund.
TELECOMMUNICATIONS PROGRAM OFFICE (TPO)
TPO manages unofficial personal telecommunications services. TPO provides a variety of telecommunications services on Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard installations worldwide. These include Wi-Fi, calling cards, prepaid cards, Navy Lodge and Bachelor Quarters in-room service, long distance service, cellular service, voice mail, Internet service and port calls.

REGULAR ATTENDANCE AT WORK

Dependable and reliable associates are invaluable. Being on time for your scheduled workday and displaying an impressive work ethic is another way in which you can establish a good professional reputation and be noticed favorably by your supervisors and co-workers. If you are unable to come to work, you must call your supervisor personally before the start of your schedule. Someone else may call for you only if you are unable to do so yourself. Having another individual call in your absence does not always mean your absence is approved. Call in procedures may vary by location.

WORK SCHEDULE

Your supervisor schedules your work hours. The official workweek starts on Sunday and runs through the following Saturday. Your supervisor or a Human Resources representative will provide information if your location operates under a different administrative workweek.

MEAL AND BREAK PERIODS

Regular meal or lunch periods will be established at no less than 30 minutes or in excess of one hour. These periods will not be considered as time worked unless an associate’s duties require the associate to remain on duty. The payment of on-the-job meal or lunch periods will not exceed 30 minutes. Meal breaks that occur when night shift differential is authorized will be included for purposes of determining entitlement to night shift differential pay. No associate will be required to work more than six consecutive hours without a meal period. Break periods for which associates are paid cannot be combined with lunch or meal periods.

SPECIAL SITUATIONS

There may be situations (such as weather conditions) when you may be excused from work or report later than normal. All locations have procedures in place concerning reporting for work when one of these special situations occurs.

DRESS CODE

Associates are expected to embody the same ethics and values reflected in the military they serve. This extends to the personal appearance of each associate. Each associate is expected to exercise rational, mature judgment in dressing for work. Professional attire, appearance and good personal hygiene are a must. Common sense prevails. Approval should be obtained from management before wearing any questionable attire. Since dress code varies by position and location, your supervisor or a Human Resources representative will provide you with a copy of the dress code specific to your work location. It is your responsibility to be aware of the requirements and to adhere to your local dress code.

YOUR POSITION

HOURS OF WORK

You play a vital role in the overall success of our organization. Whether you are a full-time, part-time or flexible associate, your daily contributions help NEXCOM meet its challenge of providing the best to our customers.

REGULAR FULL-TIME

Associates serve in continuing positions that are regularly scheduled to work 35 - 40 hours per week. Full-time associates are eligible for all of NEXCOM’s Benefit Programs.

Exempt (salaried) associates may be required to work more than the basic 40-hour work week, since the responsibilities of their positions are not confined to a specific number of hours, but rather to getting the job done.

REGULAR PART-TIME

Associates serve in continuing positions that are regularly scheduled to work between 20 and 34.5 hours per week. Part-time associates are eligible for most of NEXCOM’s Benefit Programs.

FLEXIBLE

Associates serve in continuing positions with regular schedules normally of less than 20 hours per week or temporary positions up to 40 hours per week. This work may be scheduled in advance or on an “as needed” basis. Flexible associates are eligible for limited NEXCOM Benefit Programs.

PROBATIONARY PERIOD

If you are a regular full or part-time associate, you will serve a probationary period which is typically one year, but can vary based on location. The probationary period enables you and your supervisor to determine whether your continued employment is mutually beneficial. You can expect your supervisor to:

• Discuss the duties and responsibilities of your position.
• Describe the performance standards expected of you.
• Provide periodic guidance and reports on your progress.
• Schedule you for any training required.

Flexible associates are not subject to a probationary period. However, if a flexible associate converts to a regular position, he or she will typically become subject to the 12 month probationary period beginning on the associate’s conversion date, but this can vary by location.
PAY SYSTEM

PAYDAY
NEXCOM’s pay cycle is bi-weekly. Associates receive their pay in the week following the end of the pay period. Your supervisor will advise you of the payday at your location.

YOUR PAYCHECK
Direct Deposit Electronic Funds Transfer is the standard payment method and is required for all associates. It is important to review your paycheck stub each payday to ensure that your earnings, deductions and leave balances are correct. If something on your check is not correct, let your supervisor know. Your paycheck will be available to view online after two weeks through the ADP online paycheck view system. Instructions for using ADP can be obtained from your local Human Resources representative.

PAY SYSTEMS
NEXCOM currently administers two pay systems: Pay Banding and Craft and Trade. If you are paid under the Pay Banding system, the letters “NF” appear under your job title on your position description. If you are paid under the Craft and Trade system, the letters NA, NL, NS or XW appear on your job description.

OVERTIME
If you are an hourly NF-grade associate and are required to work overtime, you will be paid at a rate equal to one and one-half times your basic rate of pay for all hours in excess of 40 in a workweek. If you are a Craft & Trade (NA/NL/NS/XW) associate, you are compensated for hours worked in excess of 8 per day or 40 per week. Your supervisor can provide you specific information on your location’s overtime policy. Associates can check with Human Resources for more information about the rules for overtime based on their pay system NF or NA/NL/NS/XW.

SHIFT DIFFERENTIAL/SUNDAY PREMIUM
If you are a Craft and Trade associate and are required to work evenings, nights, or Sundays, you may be entitled to additional pay. Your supervisor can provide you specific information on your location’s pay policies in these areas. (This benefit varies based on local policies and procedures).

PAY BANDING (NF)
Pay banding is a pay for performance system that allows activities to set pay at a rate commensurate with your qualifications, experience and wage rates paid in the local area. There are six bands as follows:

- NF-1: Sales Clerk/Cashier/Junior Clerical
- NF-2: Senior Sales Associate/Senior Clerical
- NF-3: Supervisory Clerical/Administrative & Entry Level Specialist/Management
- NF-4: Senior Specialist/Management
- NF-5: Senior Management
- NF-6: Senior Executive

If you fall under the Pay Banding System, you may receive a salary increase or cash bonus at any time. Normally these performance awards are given in conjunction with your appraisal.

CRAFT AND TRADE PAY SYSTEM
(NA/NL/NS/XW)
This pay system covers associates in skilled trade positions and those performing manual labor. If you are covered under this system, your starting pay rate, step increases and subsequent pay adjustments are set by law.
ANNUAL LEAVE

Everyone needs a period of rest and relaxation. NEXCOM provides a generous amount of annual leave to full-time and part-time associates for this purpose. Annual leave may also be used for bereavement purposes. The amount of leave you earn is based on your years of service and the number of hours you work as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Years of Service</th>
<th>Accrual Rate X hours worked per year = per year</th>
<th>Number of hours</th>
<th>Number of Days</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Less than 3</td>
<td>5%</td>
<td>2080</td>
<td>13</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3-15 years</td>
<td>7.5%</td>
<td>2080</td>
<td>20</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>More than 15</td>
<td>10%</td>
<td>2080</td>
<td>26</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Although you begin accruing annual leave immediately, your leave balance will not appear on your pay stub until you have been with the organization for 90 days. Additionally, you must wait 90 days before you are eligible to use annual leave.

Unused leave may be carried over from one leave year to the next. The maximum number of hours of leave you can carry over is 240. Since unused leave over your maximum is forfeited if you don’t use it by the end of the leave year, it is important to plan a leave schedule each year.

Note: Managers working at NEXCOM activities overseas who are on transportation agreements may carry over up to 360 hours.

SICK LEAVE

One of the most important benefits you receive as a regular full-time or part-time associate is sick leave. Sick leave is a privilege, not a right. It may be used for illness, injury or doctor’s appointments. Eligible associates earn sick

COMMISSION PAY PLANS

Some associates are paid on a commission basis. This means they receive a percentage of the sales generated by performing their jobs. Barbers and beauticians are among the positions that may be eligible for commission pay. If you are in a position that is eligible for commission pay, contact your local Human Resources representative for specifics.

There are five step rates of pay within each grade level, and if your performance rating is “Fully Successful” or better, you will receive a pre-determined step increase, provided you have completed the waiting period for “time in step” requirements. Additionally, pay rates are adjusted annually based on surveys conducted on wages paid in the wage area.
leave at the rate of 5% of hours worked. Those associates who work 40 hours per week earn 13 days sick leave each year.

- A large sick leave balance provides salary continuation during an extended illness or injury.
- Sick leave carries over from one leave year to the next without limit.
- All unused sick leave on your leave record is converted to additional credited service under our Retirement Plan when you retire.

ANNUAL/SICK LEAVE FOR FLEXIBLE ASSOCIATES

Although regularly scheduled flexible associates normally have work schedules of less than 20 hours per week, on occasion business needs may require them to work 20 hours or more in a workweek. If this occurs, flexible associates will earn leave at the rate of 5% for each hour they work between 20 and 40 hours in their basic workweek. The leave earned may be used for annual or sick leave purposes. New associates must wait 90 days before they are eligible to take paid leave. The flexible associate leave carry over maximum is 30 hours from one leave year to the next.

COURT LEAVE

NEXCOM encourages you to fulfill your civic obligation. If you are called to jury duty or to appear in court as a witness in a judicial proceeding other than a proceeding that only involves private parties, you are entitled to receive regular pay or to retain the court fees; whichever is greater. If the court fees are the smaller amount, such fees, less any transportation allowance, must be turned over to your location upon completion of service. To qualify for court leave, you need to submit the official summons from the court to your supervisor in advance of the time you are required to be away from work.

MILITARY LEAVE

If you belong to the military reserve or National Guard and are called to active duty or active duty for military training, you are entitled to an excused absence up to a maximum of 15 days per military fiscal year without charge to leave or loss of pay. Any part of the excused absence that is not used by the end of the fiscal year may be carried over to the next fiscal year, not to exceed a 15 day maximum carry over.

An additional 22 work days of military leave in a calendar year may be granted if you are called to active duty to enforce the law. In this case, your civilian salary is reduced by your military pay. Don’t forget to present your orders to your supervisor when requesting military leave.

LEAVE WITHOUT PAY

Leave without pay may be granted upon request for a period not to exceed one year for reasons acceptable to and in the best interest of NEXCOM. Leave without pay is usually requested when an associate has exhausted all leave allowances. An associate who is on leave without pay must make direct contributions to NEXCOM to keep benefit plans coverage active. If you need to request a period of leave without pay, your supervisor or your local Human Resources representative can provide guidance.

FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT (FMLA)

This law entitles associates with 12 months of active service to take up to 12 workweeks of unpaid leave during any 12 month period for reasons as follows:

- Birth and/or care of a newborn child
- Placement of a child with the associate for adoption or foster care
HOLIDAYS

NEXCOM participates in the following 10 Federal holidays:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Holiday</th>
<th>Date</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>New Year's Day</td>
<td>January 1</td>
</tr>

Whether you will receive a paid day off for one of the listed holidays (i.e. “holiday pay”) depends on the number of days you work each week. You must have worked a scheduled workday before or after these holidays to receive compensation. An associate who works less than 5 days a week will receive holiday pay if the holiday falls on a day he/she is scheduled to work. If your supervisor requires you to work on a holiday, you may be eligible to receive holiday premium pay.

If a holiday falls on your non-workday and you work five days a week, a Holiday Observance Chart determines the day you observe as the holiday.

FAMILY FRIENDLY LEAVE ACT (FFLA)

FAMILY CARE AND BEREAVEMENT
Regular full-time associates may use up to 13 workdays of sick leave each leave year for family care and bereavement purposes. The amount of sick leave permitted for part-time associates each leave year for FFLA is pro-rated in proportion to the average number of hours of work in the associate’s schedule each week. Flexible associates are not eligible to use sick leave under FFLA.

CARE FOR A FAMILY MEMBER WITH A SERIOUS HEALTH CONDITION
Regular full-time associates may use up to 12 workweeks of sick leave each leave year to care for a family member with a serious health condition. The amount of sick leave permitted for part-time associates each leave year to care for a family member with a serious health condition is prorated in proportion to the average number of hours of work in the associate’s schedule each week.

SICK LEAVE FOR ADOPTION
Associates may use an unlimited amount of earned sick leave for adoption-related purposes.

RELIGIOUS OBSERVANCE
You may elect to work compensatory overtime for the purpose of taking time off without charging your annual leave when your religious beliefs require you to be off from work. Your supervisor will provide opportunities for you to work overtime on an hour-for-hour basis generally in the pay period immediately before, during or after the day of religious observance, when arranged in advance.

• Care of a spouse, son, daughter, or parent with a serious health condition (requires medical certification)
• Your own serious health condition (requires medical certification)
• Any qualifying need arising out of the fact the spouse or a son or daughter or parent of the associate is on covered active duty (or has been notified of an impending call or order to covered active duty) in the Armed Forces

You may elect to substitute accrued annual or sick leave in lieu of unpaid leave depending on the type of absence.
FLEXIBLE SPENDING ACCOUNT (FSA)

A FSA allows you to set aside a portion of your salary in a special account. You can then use the money in your account(s) to reimburse yourself for qualified health care and/or dependent care expenses. Your taxable salary is reduced by the amount you set aside in your account(s), so you pay lower income taxes and Social Security taxes. Participation in the FSA is voluntary. You decide whether you would like to participate and how much money you would like to set aside, within the minimums and maximums allowable through the plan.

You can participate in the FSA program if you are a regular full-time or regular part-time associate. NEXCOM also offers stand-alone dental plans. You cannot participate in stand-alone dental if you have elected a dental plan through your medical insurance.

DISABILITY INSURANCE

If you are unable to work because of illness or injury you may be eligible to receive disability benefits. NEXCOM provides two disability programs. Regular full-time associates are eligible for these benefits.
SHORT-TERM DISABILITY
Short-Term Disability is payable if you are unable to perform your job duties after a two month waiting period or the exhaustion of sick leave, whichever is later. Benefits are equal to 60% of your basic monthly earnings less any other income you receive for disability such as Social Security disability. The maximum number of monthly payments under the short-term program is four. These payments are a combination of your unused sick leave and Short-Term Disability benefits. This benefit is free of cost to eligible associates.

LONG-TERM DISABILITY
If you are totally disabled for six months or longer or have exhausted your sick leave, whichever is later, you may be eligible for Long-Term Disability. The amount of Long-Term Disability benefits is the same as Short-Term Disability. Benefits are payable until you cease to be disabled, retire under our retirement plan or reach the maximum number of payments. You are eligible to enroll in the Long-Term Disability Plan within the first 31 days of hire or converting to regular full-time status.

LIFE INSURANCE PROGRAMS
All of us want to ensure that our loved ones have some measure of financial security in the event of our death. Life insurance is one way of affording protection for your family if something happens to you. NEXCOM offers three life insurance programs to eligible associates that are described below.

BASIC GROUP LIFE INSURANCE (BGLI)
BGLI provides you with life insurance equal to your basic annual salary rounded to the next highest thousand plus two thousand. This benefit is for regular full-time associates only.

OPTIONAL GROUP LIFE INSURANCE (OGLI)
Regular full-time associates who join the BGLI may also choose to participate in the OGLI program. This benefit is also open to regular part-time associates without being enrolled in BGLI. OGLI allows you to select additional life insurance coverage up to 3 times your basic annual salary.

DEPENDENT GROUP LIFE INSURANCE (DGLI)
Participants in BGLI may also choose to insure family members. Three coverage options are available. This benefit is for regular full-time associates only.

EMPLOYEE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (EAP)
NEXCOM offers a comprehensive Employee Assistance Program (EAP) to associates, spouses and household members. The program is provided through Magellan Health, a leading EAP services provider.

The EAP provides referral services that assist in coping with personal, family, emotional, legal, financial, health and wellness matters. Through EAP, you are eligible to receive three in-person counseling sessions at no charge.

RETIRED OVERVIEW

When you meet age and length of service requirements, you may elect to retire from NEXCOM. If you are a participant in our benefits programs, some of these benefits accompany you into retirement such as medical and life insurance coverage. The benefits that carry over into retirement are explained in your retirement booklets which are provided when you enroll. The Human Resources retirement team at NEXCOM headquarters calculates your retirement benefits and advises you by letter of all your entitlements.

There is a toll-free retiree number (1-888-639-2363) if you or your beneficiary has any questions concerning your benefits. You will be contacted by letter when there are changes that affect you.

We all want independence and security during retirement. NEXCOM has a three-tiered retirement system designed to give associates as many options as possible.

NEXCOM RETIREMENT PLAN

Regular full-time and regular part-time associates are automatically enrolled in the Retirement Pension Plan. After reaching your first anniversary, you will receive one year credited service and 1% of your pay will begin coming out of your paycheck. You can opt-out of the plan anytime.

- You will be vested after only five years of service.
- Surviving spouse benefits for death in service or death after retirement.
- Cost of living increases on your retirement benefits.
- Portability of your retirement benefits between NEXCOM and appropriated fund agencies and other DoD non-appropriated fund instrumentalities (DoD NAFIs).
- No mandatory retirement age.

401(K)

The second tier of the retirement system is the 401(K) Plan. The 401(K) Plan assists you in building an additional source of income for your retirement. Highlights are:

- You contribute to the Plan with “pre-tax” dollars. Pre-tax contributions lower your reportable income, and you receive an immediate benefit – a reduction in your federal withholding taxes.
- The Plan provides for matching contributions. For every dollar you contribute, NEXCOM matches .50 cents, up to 6% of your pay, for a maximum employer contribution of 3%.
- Taxes on earnings in your 401(K) account are deferred until you make a withdrawal. This means your money has the chance to grow faster.
- You may contribute within current IRS guidelines of your earnings to the Plan.
- There are several investment vehicles that you can select.

As a NAF associate, you are covered by the Social Security Act. Social Security is the third associate benefit plan that provides income to you when you retire.

BULLETIN BOARDS
Your management team will frequently have information for you to review. You are responsible for knowing where to look for updates and information. Your supervisor will show you where information is posted.

Your operation may hold an “All Hands Meeting,” which you are expected to attend. These sessions may be focused on important rollouts, changes in policy or celebrations. You will be paid for attending these sponsored meetings. This list is not all inclusive. NEXCOM emphasizes open communication lines among all associates. Your ideas, input and feedback contribute to our success.

These newsletters provide updates on business initiatives, highlight important personnel policies and offer interesting articles about associates. Associates are invited to submit articles and photographs for publication.

ASI (ASSOCIATE SATISFACTION INDEX)
The Associate Satisfaction Index (ASI) survey is the organization’s survey of associates, typically conducted annually. Some of the topics covered by the survey include job design, work and working environment, training, communications, teamwork, communications, supervision, benefits and advancement. When an ASI is conducted, you are encouraged to complete it. Anonymity of those who respond is ensured and the ASI’s results are important.

Departments at headquarters issue bulletins that regularly provide details on operational matters and explanations of changes in associate benefits or personnel programs.

MASSMAIL

DISASTER COMMUNICATION
In the event there is a disaster (hurricane, tornado, etc.), it is important that you let us know how you and your family are doing. We also want to keep you informed of the status of your local operation.

Each associate is provided with a wallet card with disaster contact numbers. If you are not able to get in touch with your department’s point of contact, call the local number on your wallet card or call toll-free at 1-866-878-1776. Leave a message as to your whereabouts and you and your family’s health and safety. You can also send an email to disastercontact@nexweb.org. Your supervisor or your local Human Resources representative is available to provide additional information regarding our disaster communication procedures.

The Navy Family Accountability and Assessment System (NFAAS) also offers an app you can download to your smart phones. The NFAAS app will allow you to check in and enter your status during disaster incidents and also offers information on Navy resources and safe practices.

ASSOCIATE CONCERNS
WORKPLACE ISSUES
You may feel negatively impacted by working conditions such as workplace policies, hostile work environment, work performance reviews, disapproval of leave and work schedule changes. If you need help, it’s always best to start with your manager or local HR Representative. However, if you feel uncomfortable or need to reach out to someone outside your workplace, there are other resources you can contact. For guidance on who to call, check your location’s bulletin board for the Associate Concerns poster. The poster provides examples of issues that may concern you and the phone numbers of who best to contact based on the type of concern you have.

If you wish to file your concern as an official grievance, submit it in writing within 10 calendar days of it happening to the lowest official in the Supervisory chain who can help. Associates who are part of a bargaining unit are to use the Collective Bargaining Agreement Negotiated Grievance Procedure. If you have questions about the Grievance process or any other workplace issues, call NEXCOM HR at 1-877-264-7783.

FRAUD, WASTE & ABUSE
Alertline is an anonymous 24/7/365 confidential hotline for reporting theft and fraud, workplace violence, safety concerns, on-the-job drug and alcohol abuse, disregard for policy/procedures, misuse of government resources, acceptance of bribes or gratuities, conflict of interest or anything that threatens the security of your workplace. Report anything that troubles you or makes you uncomfortable. Even if you don’t have all the facts, your quick action could help prevent a far more serious incident. Call NEXCOM’s Loss Prevention/Safety or call NEXCOM’s Alertline at 1-888-540-5410.

DISCRIMINATION
If you believe you have been subjected to discrimination based on race, color, religion, national origin, reprisal, age, disability, equal pay, sex (sexual orientation, sexual stereotyping) or GINA (genetic information), you have 45 calendar days from the day you became aware of the alleged discriminatory act to contact the NEXCOM EEO Office at 1-800-884-9459.

WHISTLEBLOWER PROTECTION
As a federal government employee, you may also report fraud, waste and abuse situations to the DoD Inspector General Hotline. You are protected from reprisal if you report wrongdoing. The DoD Hotline number is 1-800-424-9098.
CAREER DEVELOPMENT

NEXCOM hires the best qualified candidate for positions based on the present and future needs of the organization. Positions are filled from within and outside the organization.

If your plans include a long-term relationship with NEXCOM, you need to discuss your career aspirations with your supervisor. The first step is to assess what additional knowledge, skill or experience you need to acquire to assume positions with greater responsibility and pay. Your supervisor and the NEXCOM training department can provide help with an individual development plan.

NEXCOM is a worldwide organization and a willingness to relocate may be a requirement if your goal is a management position. Overseas assignments enhance career growth within the NEXCOM Enterprise.

REGULAR FEEDBACK ON PERFORMANCE

Your performance is reviewed after the first 90 days of employment and thereafter annually through a performance appraisal. You and your supervisor will discuss how well you are doing, what areas you excel in and areas for improvement. Your 90 day and annual appraisal discussions also present an opportunity for you and your supervisor to:

- Review your position description.
- Formulate plans for additional training.
- Discuss your career aspirations.

You can also expect your supervisor to provide regular feedback on your performance. Additionally, you are encouraged to meet with your supervisor any time you want to discuss your performance. NEXCOM encourages dialogue between associates and supervisors/managers to provide regular feedback on performance.

UPWARD MOBILITY

NEXCOM prefers to promote from within when filling vacancies. The benefits to promoting our own associates include knowledge of policy and established work experience with the organization. This helps establish more dedicated associates.

For information regarding how to log in and use the automated hiring system, refer to the NEXCOM intranet site under Code H and “Employment.” If you do not have regular access to a NEXCOM computer, your supervisor or a Human Resources representative can provide you with a copy of these instructions. Applicants are responsible for reviewing the Minimum Qualifications Required (MQRs) to ensure they meet the requirements for the listed positions. Only applicants selected for interviews will be contacted.

CONTINUITY OF EMPLOYMENT FOR MILITARY SERVICE FAMILY MEMBERS

NEXCOM has established this special program for military family members. We want to be sure that your employment service and benefits are not interrupted each time you relocate. To achieve this objective, NEXCOM Human Resources begins an employment search as soon as you notify us of your next duty station. You will be placed on leave without pay when you depart your old duty station, but will have the option of making direct contributions to your associate benefit plans. If your new duty station is at an installation where there is a NEXCOM location, you will receive priority placement for one year for positions for which you qualify.

EMPLOYMENT VERIFICATIONS

NEXCOM has contracted a third party service, “The Work Number,” to provide automated employment and wage verification services. For more information about using “The Work Number,” contact your local Human Resources department or visit www.TheWorkNumber.com.

DUAL EMPLOYMENT

Dual Employment (5 U.S.C 5533) states that civilian personnel shall not be entitled to receive basic compensation in excess of 40 hours from more than one civilian office or position (including temporary, part-time or flexible positions). There is no restriction on the number of appointments an individual may hold, only upon the number of hours for which the individual may be paid. The Act does not preclude a person from working more than 40 hours per week or employed by only one activity.

If you are now or will be employed by an additional activity and would exceed 40 hours weekly total, you are subject to separation from one or all such activities and possibly further subject to prosecution under the provisions of the Dual Compensation Act. Be sure to let your supervisor or Human Resources know if you have another position within the federal government to determine if a problem exists.

The standards we expect from you every day encompass integrity in your business dealings, professional appearance at work, excellent customer service and regular attendance.

ETHICS

As employees of the United States Government, we are reminded daily that our “Public Service is a Public Trust.” Each of us must put our loyalty to the law and ethical principles above our private interest. NEXCOM prides itself as an organization that promotes and supports a high-performing organizational culture through diversity and inclusion. Our mission is to foster a diverse workforce and an inclusive work environment that ensures equal opportunity through NEXCOM policy development, workforce analysis, outreach, retention and education to best serve our associates and customers. Diversity is defined as the collection of individuals bringing together varied demographic, cultural, human, intellectual, and philosophical differences to create an environment that honors and respects those differences in a safe and supportive manner.
Diversity embodies differences – life and work experiences, perspectives, cultures, ethnicity, gender, age and other aspects of life – that make us unique individuals. Inclusion is the extent to which associates have the opportunity and feel welcome to fully participate and contribute to the organization. Inclusion also entails building an environment where associate differences are valued, associates are empowered and diverse communities are connected throughout the world.

To ensure that we are creating the type of environment that provides associates the opportunity to become engaged in the overall NEXCOM operation, The CEO’s Council for Diversity was established at NEXCOM headquarters and in each District to ensure that diversity continues to be integral to the transformation effort of NEXCOM.

Associates interested in membership may contact their local Diversity Council or Human Resources.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY (EEO)

NEXCOM is committed to providing equal opportunity for employment, promotion and training. We practice this by ensuring that our personnel policies are free from any taint of discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability, genetic information or retaliation for having engaged in a protected EEO activity. Not only is providing equal opportunity the law, it makes good business sense.

NEXCOM has zero tolerance regarding harassment in the workplace. Harassment is defined as any unwelcome, hostile, or offensive conduct taken based on race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, genetic information or sexual orientation that interferes with an individual’s performance or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment.

Sexual harassment is defined as any repeated or unwelcome sexual advances, “requests for sexual favors and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

- Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual’s employment.
- Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting such individual.
- Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual’s work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment.

If you believe you have been subjected to harassing conduct, you are encouraged to immediately contact the EEO Office, Human Resources or your chain of command to resolve the situation.

REASONABLE ACCOMMODATION POLICY

NEXCOM provides reasonable accommodation to qualified individuals with disabilities that would allow them to perform their essential job duties. Reasonable accommodations are adjustments to job requirements or to the work environment that assist associates with a permanent disability in performing the essential duties of their position. Federal laws require agencies to provide reasonable accommodations, unless to do so would cause undue hardship. By providing reasonable accommodations, NEXCOM assures it will provide an environment in which a qualified associate will be able to perform his/her job effectively.

If you believe you need a reasonable accommodation to perform your essential functions of your position, please contact the EEO Office, your immediate supervisor, or your Human Resources representative for further details.

HEALTHY AND SAFE ENVIRONMENT

We will make every reasonable effort to ensure a healthy and safe work environment. However, efforts to prevent accidents will not be successful without your cooperation. Knowing how to perform your job correctly is a key ingredient to safety. Your supervisor provides training to eliminate hazards, and you are responsible for following your supervisor’s guidelines. Accidents are preventable if you exercise proper care, observe all safety regulations and make use of any required safety equipment. If you observe an unsafe condition, report it to your supervisor.
INSPECTION OF LOCKERS AND PERSONAL ITEMS

To improve security, we reserve the right to inspect your locker or any other property furnished to you and to inspect any package you may have in your possession upon entering or leaving the premises.

LANGUAGE POLICY

The use of English is encouraged unless the customer expresses the need for a different language. The use of languages other than English, when not communicating with a customer, is permissible. Speaking in English is required in situations where a valid business necessity and/or a safety/national security threat can be demonstrated. We appreciate and benefit from our associates’ cultural diversity when they provide a service to our patrons for whom English is not the primary language. Associates are encouraged to remain considerate of others and use good judgment regarding exclusion of coworkers and patrons during the use of languages other than English. What is most important is that we address and serve our customers with their best interests in mind. Interacting with our fellow NEXCOM associates in a manner which fosters positive and professional working relationships is vital, in order to promote an efficient and productive work force.

POSSESSION OR CONSUMPTION OF ALCOHOLIC OR OTHER DRUG SUBSTANCES

NEXCOM is committed to the health, safety and productivity of its associates. We acknowledge the right, obligation and intent to maintain a safe, efficient and drug-free working environment for all associates, as well as to protect property, equipment and operations.

We have zero tolerance regarding the use, sale or possession of illegal drugs or controlled substances. Marijuana and products derived from marijuana are considered controlled substances under federal law. Therefore, they are not permitted regardless of state law. You are strictly forbidden to consume alcoholic beverages during work time or a paid break period. You may not return to work from an unpaid break period under the influence of alcoholic or other drug substances. You are also forbidden to return to work after breaks or meal periods under the influence of alcohol. There may be instances when alcohol is available at a command sanctioned event; however, you may not consume those beverages if you are currently working a scheduled shift or will be returning to work.

SHOPPING POLICIES

Shopping is permitted when an associate is off-duty and during established lunch periods. Shopping is not permitted during short breaks (except to purchase snack and/or beverage items that are to be consumed on the premise). Off-duty is defined as before and after scheduled work hours at the NEX and scheduled days off.

All associates are prohibited from setting aside, “holding,” or “stashing” merchandise for themselves or customers, or asking another associate to hold merchandise for any period of time. Associates are also prohibited from making purchases that would lead to not-in-stock conditions.

Associates cannot purchase any merchandise during their normal work shift. When off duty, they have all privileges authorized as a military family member. These requirements are to enable our military customers, the people who pay our salaries, a reasonable amount of time to purchase our merchandise and to prevent possible not-in-stock conditions.

It is important to remember shopping privileges are a benefit extended by NEXCOM. Misuse and/or abuse of this benefit may result in revocation and/or disciplinary action up to and including termination.
We realize that there is a great deal of information in this handbook. However, we want to do our very best to prepare you for your position with NEXCOM. It’s important for you to know the expectations and benefits of working for us. If you do not understand any information in this handbook, be sure to ask your supervisor or Human Resources. You are responsible for the contents of this handbook.

Thank you for joining a team dedicated to servicing our Navy community.

We want to wish you a successful career as a member of our NEXCOM team.

Congratulations!
